SUGAR WILL BE NEXT.

The Tariff Bill About Down to That Schedule.

TILLMAN STARTS A CONTROVERSY.

The Republicans Refrain From Making Speeches on the Measure—Vest Wants to Get Through With the Sugar Schedule Without Delay.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—The senate again made good progress on the tariff bill, covering about ten pages of the metal schedule and almost completing it. The formal contest against the measure was maintained, but all amendments tending to change the bill as reported were voted down and the finance committee sustained. The debate was mainly of a technical character, the Republican senators continuing the policy of refraining from making speeches.

Before the tariff bill was taken up Senator Tillman (S. C.) gave the senate another hour of exciting controversy over the proposed sugar investigation. He defended himself from published charges relative to his administration of the governorship of South Carolina, and then moved that the committee having charge of the sugar resolution be discharged from further consideration of it, thus bringing the subject directly before the senate.

Mr. Gallinger (N. H.), in behalf of the committee, made a spirited protest against this course, and also urged that the senate should not turn aside from its public work to investigate charges affecting the private character of senators.

There were frequent lively exchanges between Mr. Tillman, Mr. Gallinger and Mr. Jones (Nev.), but in the end Mr. Tillman withdrew his motion.

Mr. Vest offered a resolution, which was adopted, reciting that the skeletons of American soldiers killed at Buena Vista in 1847 were now exhumed and asking the state department to investigate the subject and report the facts to congress. A letter was read in this connection from Consul General Crittenden saying the matter should receive the attention of the authorities at Washington. A clipping was enclosed stating that the bones of American soldiers were bleaching in the sun.

The tariff bill was then taken up, paragraph 149, in relation to penknives, razors, etc., being the subject of consideration. Mr. Jones (Ark.) criticised sharply the provisions of the paragraph asserting that there could be no possible justification for the high rates. He asserted that high rates of duty were a premium on trusts and a direct tax on the poorer people, and added that where trusts existed competition was out of the question.

Mr. Turpie followed in a general speech directed at high tariff rates on low priced articles, which was done, he said, for monopolies. This he pronounced an unpardonable sin and a crime against justice and public policy. He closed with a denunciation of the Republican policy, saying the tariff bill was an effort on its part to redeem its broken pledges to its followers at the expense of the general public.

Mr. Vest's substitute for the paragraph fixing 70 per cent as the maximum rate was lost—23 to 31. Other amendments were defeated and the paragraph as amended by the committee adopted.

Paragraphs 150, 151 and 152 were agreed to after amendments had been lost. On paragraph 154, relating to shotguns, pistols, etc., a new committee amendment was agreed to, making the rate on revolving pistols 75 cents each and 25 per cent ad valorem. Efforts by Mr. Vest to reduce the rate on combination shotguns and rifles to 30 per cent ad valorem, on cut nails to 20 per cent ad valorem and by Mr. Turpie on horse shoe and hobnails to 25 per cent ad valorem were lost.

On paragraph 158, relating to wire nails, Mr. Vest moved an amendment making the rate 25 per cent ad valorem. He said this was another instance in which the American producers controlled the American market and shipped heavily to the foreign markets.

Mr. Jones (Ark.) stated that at the present time a combination was forming to control the price of wire nails, and at such a time should the senate, he asked, increase rates and encourage this combination?

A contest was made on paragraph 165, screws. In the course of the discussion Mr. Foraker (O.) entered the debate for the first time and answered some of the objections made by Mr. Vest and Mr. Gray on the proposed rates. He said the manufacture of screws was extensive in Ohio, and he knew the rates to be absolutely necessary to carry on the business.

The paragraphs relating to aluminum, bronze powder, metallic mineral substances, mica and nickel went over by requests of several senators.

The bill was laid aside and Mr. White asked Mr. Allison as to his plans for going on with the sugar schedule, which was but four pages beyond the point now reached. If it was to go over to next week senators ought to know it in advance.

Mr. Allison said no plan had been made to have the schedule go over. But much would depend on the health of Mr. Aldrich, who was now confined to his room.

"I think all will agree," said Mr. Vest, "that we ought to dispose of that schedule without any delay. It is an irritating and a nasty subject, although a sweet one; full of scandal and suspicion, and a want it settled and out of the senate."

Mr. Pettigrew wanted the consideration of the sugar schedule fixed for next Wednesday, as he was to be gone early in the week. No agreement was reached, however.

HOUSE DOES LITTLE BUSINESS.

Appointment of Committees Again Comes Up—Ruled Out of Order.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—The house proceedings were enlivened by a single incident, the attempt of Mr. Terry (Dem., Ark.) to secure consideration as a privileged matter of a resolution for the immediate appointment of the committee on foreign affairs. It was ruled out of order and an appeal taken from the decision of the chair was laid on the table by a strict party vote. Mr. Simpson, the Populist leader, was absent and several bills were passed by unanimous consent.

The Frye bill to prevent collisions on certain harbors, rivers and inland waters of the United States, and the senate resolution for the relief of the El Paso flood sufferers, amended so as to make the appropriation of $10,000 available out of the unexpended balance of the appropriation for the Mississippi flood sufferers, were passed and the conference report on the Indian appropriation bill was adopted.

PEACE NEGOTIATIONS.

Ambassadors of the Powers Have a Sitting With Turkish Minister.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 4.—The first sitting of the peace negotiations was held at the Topane palace between the ambassadors of the powers and Tewfik Pasha, Turkish minister for foreign affairs.

No secretary was present, and the only record that will be kept of the proceedings was such as each ambassador will make for himself.

It is understood that the result of three hours of deliberation was that Count Nelidoff, the Russian ambassador, will prepare a memorandum as to the rectification of the frontier; M. Cambon, the French ambassador, a memorandum as to the capitulations in the case of Greek subjects in Turkey; and Sir Philip Currie, the British ambassador, a memorandum as to indemnity.

AN ATTACK ON LEE.

A Spanish Paper Charges Him With Ignorance of the Language.

HAVANA, June 4.—The Diario publishes an attack on United States Consul General Fitzhugh Lee, charging him with ignorance of the Spanish language and with being surrounded by Americans born in Cuba, who are generally hostile to the Spanish government. The Diario further reflects on the judgment of the United States consul general.

The Diario de la Marina also prints a letter from a correspondent in Santa Clara, making a savage attack upon the United States consul at Sagua la Grande, Walter B. Barker, charging him, among other things, with furnishing relief in the shape of provisions to Messrs. Seigie and Yova and their families, both of whom are said to be owners of sugar estates and not in need of assistance. The correspondent of the Diario de la Marina uses this allegation to reflect upon the honesty and good faith of the reports of Mr. Barker to his government.

Fire Raged With Great Fury.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., June 4.—The greatest conflagration that has ever visited Alexandria broke out in Bryan's fertilizing mill on the river front and raged with great fury for about eight hours, causing a total damage of from $450,000 to $500,000; partly insured. The entire block bounded by the "Strand," Duke, Union and Prince streets, was almost completely wiped out, only one warehouse with its contents being saved. The Washington fire department was called upon for help and, responding immediately, did good work.

The Cruiser Brooklyn Sails.

NEW YORK, June 4.—The new armored cruiser Brooklyn has sailed, bound to England to participate in the queen's jubilee celebration to take place this month. The Brooklyn sails under command of Rear Admiral J. N. Miller. She was chosen to represent the United States as being one of the finest ships in the navy.

On Trial for Smuggling.

NEW YORK, June 4.—United States Commissioner Shields began an examination into the charges of smuggling made against the St. Louis drygoods merchant, Richard M. Scruggs, and E. S. Langhorne, his secretary. The defendants were passengers on the steamship St. Paul, which arrived here on May 22, and they are charged with attempting to smuggle in $2,000 to $3,000 worth of jewelry. The case was continued.

To Raise Duties On American Products.

PARIS, June 4.—In the chamber of deputies Baron Des Rotours, protectionist deputy, representing the Fourth district of Lille, submitted a motion to district of Lille, submitted a motion to raise the duties on American products if the United States fixes prohibitive duties upon French products.

THE SYNOD ADJOURNS.

The Reformed Presbyterians to Meet at Walton, N. Y.

M'ALLISTER MAKES A STATEMENT.

He Will Suspend His Paper Until the Synod Rescinds Its Action—Talk of a New Church Paper—A Formal Protest Against Decision In Heresy Case.

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., June 4.—The synod of the Reformed Presbyterian church, which has been in session at Beaver Falls since last Wednesday, has adjourned to meet at Walton, N. Y., on the first Wednesday of June, 1898. The meeting, which was one of importance in all respects, was rendered notable by the interesting event known as the Wilson-McAllister heresy case, the consideration of which occupied so much of the time of the synod.

Rev. McAllister added a chapter to the interesting volume of church history that has been made by synod during the past few days by the presentation of a paper, which is in part as follows:

"Permit me to thank you for the kind and brotherly manner in which you have expressed your authoritative judgment that I should cease publishing articles in The Christian Statesman on the organic unity of the church. Had you embodied that judgment in an injunction I could not conscientiously have submitted to it as 'authority in the Lord,' and this unhappy condition of things would of course have meant sooner or later a much severer censure for what, from your standpoint, would be regarded as insubordination to your authority. But when instead of 'enjoining' the cessation of writing such articles as a condition of dismissing the charges laid against me, you have dismissed the charge and kindly 'requested' me to cease writing such articles I can do nothing less than yield due subordination according to my own ordination vow to this authority as in its manner of exercise, though not in my judgment in the essence of it, in harmony with the divine word and our church covenant.

"Being unwilling to edit a paper that is thus, by your authority, prohibited from exercising the full liberty wherewith, in my judgment, Christ has made his people free, and that by the same authority is forbidden, though in so kind a manner, to testify as a public witness for Christ in the fullest manner to the truth, as I understand it, I hereby announce that the publication of The Christian Statesman will be suspended with its issue for June 12 until your prohibition shall be in due order estored. Instead of entering a protest and dissent against this part of the action of synod, I most respectfully request that this statement of my submission to your authority be published with your minutes."

Dr. McAllister supplements his paper with a request that the synod permit an article on organic church union to appear in The Christian Statesman of this week. It had been written and was in type before the request of the synod had been made and was practically beyond recall. Next week, he said, the issue of June 12 would contain his farewell, as The Christian Statesman would not appear again until the restrictions of synod had been removed.

It was broadly hinted by various liberals that a paper would soon take the place of The Christian Statesman and would be open to any fair expression of views.

A formal dissent from the action of the synod in the case of the charges against Rev. Dr. McAllister. The formal dissenters were Revs. J. F. Crozier, H. G. Foster, G. M. Robb, P. P. Boyd, S. M. Orr and J. Ralston Wylie. Their reasons of dissent were: First, that the authority of the synod over the parties had not been distributed equally; second, that the committee of conference had withheld from the synod the "additional information" on which the supplementary report had been based. The dissent was given a place on the records of the synod.

Much of the day was spent in hearing the reports of committees and business was rushed, as the synod has already been in session longer than usual.

Rev. Dr. McAllister presented the report of the committee on the "Signs of the Times." Nov. 25 was designated as a fast day to be observed by the church in view of the condition of the country. Synod declined to appoint delegates to the National Anti-Saloon League convention on the ground that they were not sufficiently familiar with the movement to justify such action. The finance committee presented a lengthy report covering all the business transactions of the church. After considerable discussion it was adopted.

A VIEW OF THE TARIFF.

A British Newspaper Makes Comments on That Subject.

LONDON, June 4.—The Daily Chronicle, in an editorial on the tariff debate and the allegations that United States senators have been improperly involved in sugar stock speculations, says:

"It would be hard to find a more striking instance of the folly of protection as the real cure of economic depression. While the British exchequer is full to overflowing, the American treasury is suffering from a deficit. If we should be fools enough to begin this business of tariff tinkering, which destroys all commercial stability, we would soon find ourselves in the same predicament."

TRIED TO LYNCH HIM.

A Mob Attacked the Jail at Urbana, to Secure the Negro Prisoner Mitchell. The Militia Fires Twenty Shots Into the Crowd—Many Killed and Injured.

URBANA, O., June 4.—The grand jury was impaneled and reported its examination of five witnesses and the indictment of Charles Mitchell, colored, for the criminal assault of Mrs. Eliza Caumer, white. The court thanked the jury for its "good day's work." Then Sheriff McLean and his deputies brought Mitchell into court in a soldier's uniform. As the militia were on duty about the courthouse, and the jail this disguise of the prisoner worked perfectly.

The crowds that were about the grounds and in the streets did not know what was going on, and those who saw Mitchell enroute from the jail to the court house did not recognize him. The doors to the court house were all guarded by the militia. With the military about the building and the crowds outside, Mitchell was badly scared. He waived the reading of the indictment, pleading guilty, and was sentenced to the extreme limit, 20 years, for criminal assault, in the penitentiary.

After Mitchell was sentenced by the court and the sheriff ordered to take him to Columbus there was trouble again. It was thought the officers might get Mitchell through the crowd disguised as a soldier, but his color prevented this plan and a cart was driven to the jail. Then the mob broke in and demanded the prisoner. The jail was strongly guarded by the militia and the sheriff felt secure so long as he did not venture out.

The mob advanced on the jail, and at least 20 shots were fired. Great excitement prevailed. A man named Harry Bell and another named Hagins were killed by the soldiers. Seven or eight others were more or less seriously wounded. The mob was around the jail for two hours.

For two hours the jail was surrounded by a howling mob of at least 1,000 to 1,500 people. The climax in Mitchell outrage culminated when the militia opened fire on the crowd and shot 20 rounds. The volley resulted in Harry Bell of this city being shot through the head and killed instantly. A young man named Hagins was shot through the body and killed instantly. Dennis Crancey of Urbana, shot in right foot. Dr. Charles Thompson of North Lewisburg received a slight wound on forehead. Wesley Bowen of Cable, shot in hip and wounded seriously. Ray Dickinson, living near the city, was shot in the shoulder. Ray McClure of Urbana was shot through muscle of right arm. Gus Weiser, who was standing on the street, received a slight wound on face and John Wank was shot in foot.

When the shooting occurred a crowd of 1,000 people stood congregated around the jail. The crowd was howling for the prisoner and more determined to secure Mitchell. It had crowded into the jailyard and was crowding toward the jail. Captain George W. Leonard, in command of the militia, addressed the crowd and gave them three minutes to disperse. There was a general rush from the jailyard, but the crowd again returned.

The noise had subsided, the demonstration was less pronounced fully a half hour had elapsed from the time the order was given when the roaring of musketry was heard. Volley after volley was fired, until as many as 20 shots had been fired into the crowd. There was a general panic for a while, and the dead and wounded were carried in every direction in search of doctors' offices.

The people are wonderfully worked up and there may be more trouble. Another victim of the shooting has just been reported. Ralph McComb of this city was shot in the arm.

Wanted Amnesty For Irish Prisoners.

LONDON, June 4.—In the house of commons Mr. Dillon, chairman of the Irish parliamentary party, asked if the government proposed to follow the example of all civilized nations, upon occasions of great national rejoicings, and grant amnesty to the Irish treason-felony prisoners. Mr. Balfour, the government leader, denied the relevancy of the question and declared that the prisoners alluded to, in the view of the house, did not belong to the classification of political prisoners.

Called on the Postmaster General.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—There was no meeting of the universal postal congress or its committees and most of the delegates took a rest after their labors and arranged for the trip about the country, to begin from here. A number of the foreign delegates called on Postmaster General Gary and exchanged views on the subject of parcels post.

FORGERS ARRESTED.

The Secret Service Bureau Discovers a Deep Plot.

TO FLOAT COUNTERFEIT BONDS.

They Are Excellent Imitations of the Original Costa Rican Government Bonds. It Is Said They Were Issued In New Orleans—Held In Default of Bail.

NEW YORK, June 4.—The most extensive counterfeiting plots ever discovered by the secret service bureau was brought to light when Richardo D. Re Quesens and his wife Eugenie were arraigned before Commissioner Shields charged with issuing counterfeit bonds of the Costa Rican government of the denomination of 100 pesos.

Re Quesens has a printing establishment in Maiden Lane, in this city, and he was arrested there. No plates, dies or other counterfeiting tools were found the rooms. The woman who was arrested and who said she was Eugenie Re Quesens is fine looking and apparently about 25 years old. She told Chief Hazen that she met Re Quesens several months ago and that he told her he had "a big scheme to float in Costa Rica."

She said: "We went to Port Limon about the middle of March. As to this charge of attempting to float forged bonds of the Costa Rican government, I can say positively that I have no knowledge of it whatever. If my husband attempted to put any such bonds on the market I can say positively that I know nothing of such a scheme."

Richard D. Re Quesens, the alleged principal in the floating of the counterfeit bonds, refused to make any statement.

Both prisoners were held in default of $3,000 bail for examination on June 16.

The counterfeits are excellent imitations of the original bonds and bear the signatures of the president, F. Pesulits, and Secretary Octuno. It is said they were issued from New Orleans. It was reported that fully $1,250,000 of these bonds had been floated, but only a small portion of the bonds, it is said, have been marketed in this city. There is a story to the effect that Re Quesens and his wife went to Costa Rica to float the bonds in an effort to benefit insurrectionists in that country. It is also said that a large amount of the bonds were placed among the conspirators against the Costa Rican government.

Alfred Wolcott, an English waiter in the Hotel Imperial in San Jose, Costa Rica, is said to be under arrest there, and it is stated that $47,000 pesos of the counterfeit notes were found in his possession. It is also claimed that a bundle of the counterfeits was found in a sofa shipped from this city.

Chief Hazen said that he expected witnesses from Costa Rica to arrive within a week or ten days.

IN AID OF COMMERCE.

Delegates Attending the Philadelphia Museum Make Addresses.

PHILADELPHIA, June 4.—At the Commercial museum several speeches were made.

Mr. Robertson (Mexico) said in the course of an address that the reason her majesty's United Kingdom controls so much of the trade of the various countries is because she subsidizes steamship lines and sends her emissaries of trade to the remotest parts of the earth. Continuing, he said the products of the Central and South American states will never be brought here until you provide some way to transport that which you wish to sell and provide some way to bring back that which your neighbors through the south have to sell. They want to buy from you, and they want to interchange their products.

Captain Graca (Rio Janeiro) stated that at the banquet he had presented a somewhat lengthy letter to President McKinley, and that distinguished gentleman had informed him he would forward a reply as early as possible. A part of the letter is as follows:

"It is our hope that your government will endeavor to develop by means of congressional action a system of navigation between our countries, which in the past years has been so sadly neglected and for which everything is ready in both countries except the practical means to carry them out. In fact, I may say that people in both our great countries are suffering for the want of practical means of navigation, which is to connect them, and only needs the stamp which can be had by legislation, the details of which I propose to present to our government at an early date."

"It is also my intention to propose a plan for the establishment of an international banking system between your great countries and ours, which will enable us to do business with each other without being compelled to pay a commission to England, which is the case at present."

Died at the Stock Exchange.

NEW YORK, June 4.—Samuel L. Post died on the floor of the Stock Exchange. He was seized with heart disease and succumbed a few minutes. He has been a member of the exchange since 1863.

Next week, he said, the issue of June 12 would contain his farewell, as The Christian Statesman would not appear again until the restrictions of synod had been removed.

It was broadly hinted by various liberals that a paper would, soon take the place of The Christian Statesman and would be open to any fair expression of views.

A formal dissent from the action of the synod in the case of the charges against Rev. Dr. McAllister. The formal dissenters were Revs. J. F. Crozier, H. G. Foster, G. M. Robb, P. P. Boyd, S. M. Orr and J. Ralston Wylie. Their reasons of dissent were: First, that the authority of the synod over the parties had not been distributed equally; second, that the committee of conference had withheld from the synod the "additional information" on which the supplementary report had been based. The dissent was given a place on the records of the synod.

Much of the day was spent in hearing the reports of committee and business was rushed, as the synod has already been in session longer than usual. Rev. Dr. McAllister presented the report of the committee on the "Signs of the Times." Nov. 25 was designated as a fast day to be observed by the church in view of the condition of the country. Synod declined to appoint delegates to the National Anti-Saloon League convention on the ground that they were not sufficiently familiar with the movement to justify such action. The finance committee presented a lengthy report covering all the business transactions of the church. After considerable discussion it was adopted.

A VIEW OF THE TARIFF.

A British Newspaper Makes Comments on That Subject.

LONDON, June 4.—The Daily Chronicle, in an editorial on the tariff debate and the allegations that United States senators have been improperly involved in sugar stock speculations, says: "It would be hard to find a more striking instance of the folly of protection as the real cure of economic depression. While the British exchequer is full to overflowing, the America treasury is suffering from a deficit. If we should be foolish enough to begin this business of tariff tinkering, which destroys all commercial stability, we would soon find ourselves in the same predicament."

TRIED TO LYNCH HIM.

A Mob Attacked the Jail at Urbana, to Secure the Negro Prisoner Mitchell. The Militia Fires Twenty Shots Into the Crowd—Many Killed and Injured.

URBANA, O., June 4.—The grand jury was impaneled and reported its examination of five witnesses and the indictment of Charles Mitchell, colored, for the criminal assault of Mrs. Eliza Caumer, white. The court thanked the jury for its "good day's work." Then Sheriff McLean and his deputies brought Mitchell into court in a soldier's uniform. As the militia were on duty about the courthouse, and the jail this disguise of the prisoner worked perfectly.

The crowds that were about the grounds and in the streets did not know what was going on, and those who saw Mitchell enroute from the jail to the court house did not recognize him. The doors to the court house were all guarded by the militia. With the military about the building and the crowds outside, Mitchell was badly scared. He waived the reading of the indictment, pleading guilty, and was sentenced to the extreme limit, 20 years, for criminal assault, in the penitentiary.

After Mitchell was sentenced by the court and the sheriff ordered to take him to Columbus there was trouble again. It was thought the officers might get Mitchell through the crowd disguised as a soldier, but his color prevented this plan and a mob was driven to the jail. Then the mob broke in and demanded the prisoner. The jail was strongly guarded by the militia and the sheriff felt secure so long as he did not venture out.

The mob advanced on the jail, and at least 20 shots were fired. Great excitement prevailed. A man named Harry Bell and another named Hagins were killed by the soldiers. Seven or eight others were more or less seriously wounded. The mob was around the jail for two hours.

For two hours the jail was surrounded by a howling mob of at least 1,000 to 1,500 people. The climax in Mitchell outrage culminated when the militia opened fire on the crowd and shot 20 rounds. The volley resulted in Harry Bell of this city being shot through the head and killed instantly. A young man named Hagins was shot through the body and killed instantly. Dennis Crancey of Urbana, shot in right foot. Dr. Charles Thompson of North Lewisburg received a slight wound on forehead. Wesley Bowen of Cable, shot in hip and wounded seriously. Ray Dickinson, living near the city, was shot in the shoulder. Ray McClure of Urbana was shot through muscle of right arm. Gus Weiser, who was standing on the street, received a slight wound on face and John Wank was shot in foot.

When the shooting occurred a crowd of 1,000 people stood congregated around the jail. The crowd was howling for the prisoner and more determined to secure Mitchell. It had crowded into the jailyard and was crowding toward the jail. Captain George W. Leonard, in command of the militia, addressed the crowd and gave them three minutes to disperse. There was a general rush from the jailyard, but the crowd again returned.

The noise had subsided, the demonstration was less pronounced fully a half hour had elapsed from the time the order was given when the roaring of musketry was heard. Volley after volley was fired, until as many as 20 shots had been fired into the crowd. There was a general panic for a while, and the dead and wounded were carried in every direction in search of doctors' offices.

The people are wonderfully worked up and there may be more trouble. Another victim of the shooting has just been reported. Ralph McComb of this city was shot in the arm.

Wanted Amnesty For Irish Prisoners.

LONDON, June 4.—In the house of commons Mr. Dillon, chairman of the Irish parliamentary party, asked if the government proposed to follow the example of all civilized nations, upon occasions of great national rejoicings, and grant amnesty to the Irish treason-felony prisoners. Mr. Balfour, the government leader, denied the relevancy of the question and declared that the prisoners alluded to, in the view of the house, did not belong to the classification of political prisoners.

Called on the Postmaster General.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—There was no meeting of the universal postal congress or its committees and most of the delegates took a rest after their labors and arranged for the trip about the country, to begin from here. A number of the foreign delegates called on Postmaster General Gary and exchanged views on the subject of parcels post.

FORGERS ARRESTED.

The Secret Service Bureau Discovers a Deep Plot.

TO FLOAT COUNTERFEIT BONDS.

They Are Excellent Imitations of the Original Costa Rica Government Bonds. It Is Said They Were Issued in New Orleans—Held in Default of Bail.

NEW YORK, June 4.—The most extensive counterfeiting plots ever discovered by the secret service bureau was brought to light when Richardo D. Re Quesens and his wife Eugenie were arraigned before Commissioner Shields charged with issuing counterfeit bonds of the Costa Rican government of the denomination of 100 pesos.

Re Quesens has a printing establishment in Maiden Lane, in this city, and he was arrested there. No plates, dies or other counterfeiting tools were found in the rooms. The woman who was arrested and who said she was Eugenie Re Quesens is fine looking and appeared about 25 years old. She told Chief Hazen that she met Re Quesens several months ago and that he told her he had "a big scheme to float in Costa Rica."

She said: "We went to Port Limon about the middle of March. As to this charge of attempting to float forged bonds of the Costa Rican government, I can say positively that I have no knowledge of it whatever. If my husband attempted to put any such bonds on the market I can say positively that I know nothing of such a scheme."

Richard D. Re Quesens, the alleged principal in the floating of the counterfeit bonds, refused to make any statement.

Both prisoners were held in default of $3,000 bail for examination on June 16.

The counterfeits are excellent imitations of the original bonds and bear the signatures of the president, F. Pesuits, and Secretary Octuno. It is said they were issued from New Orleans. It was reported that fully $1,250,000 of these bonds had been floated, but only a small portion of the bonds, it is said, have been marketed in this city. There is a story to the effect that Re Quesens and his wife went to Costa Rica to float the bonds in an effort to benefit insurrectionists in that country. It is also said that a large amount of the bonds were placed among the conspirators against the Costa Rican government.

Alfred Wolcott, an English waiter in the Hotel Imperial in San Jose, Costa Rica, is said to be under arrest there, and it is stated that 847,000 pesos of the counterfeit notes were found in his possession. It is also claimed that a bundle of the counterfeits was found in a sofa shipped from this city.

Chief Hazen said that he expected witnesses from Costa Rica to arrive within a week or ten days.

IN AID OF COMMERCE.

Delegates Attending the Philadelphia Museum Make Addresses.

PHILADELPHIA, June 4.—At the Commercial museum several speeches were made.

Mr. Robertson (Mexico) said in the course of an address that the reason her majesty's United Kingdom controls so much of the trade of the various countries is because she subsidizes steamship lines and sends her emissaries of trade to the remotest parts of the earth. Continuing, he said the products of the Central and South American states will never be brought here until you provide some way to transport that which you wish to sell and provide some way to bring back that which your neighbors through the south have to sell. They want to buy from you, and they want to interchange their products.

Captain Graca (Rio Janeiro) stated that at the banquet he had presented a somewhat lengthy letter to President McKinley, and that distinguished gentleman had informed him he would forward a reply as early as possible. A part of the letter is as follows:

"It is also my hope that your government will endeavor to develop by means of congressional action a system of navigation between our countries, which in the past years has been so sadly neglected and for which every thing is ready in both countries except the practical means to carry them out. In fact, I may say that people in both our great countries are suffering for the want of practical means of navigation, which is to connect them, and only needs the stamp which can be had by legislation, the details of which I propose to present to our government at an early date."

"It is also my intention to propose a plan for the establishment of an international banking system between your great countries and ours, which will enable us to do business with each other without being compelled to pay a commission to England, which is the case at present."

Died at the Stock Exchange.

NEW YORK, June 4.—Samuel L. Post died on the floor of the Stock Exchange. He was seized with heart disease and succumbed in a few minutes. He has been a member of the exchange since 1863.

SHE'S WELL EDUCATED.

A Woman Who Has Learned Entirely by Careful Listening.

The wonderful development of certain faculties in the cases of persons who have lost the use of some of their natural functions, or of others whose faculties have not been fully developed, has long been a matter of remark, but it is not alone the outside observers who appreciate the provisions of nature for the benefit of the unfortunates. The sufferers themselves often appreciate this fully, and in some instances, after years, grow to depend so much upon their acquired faculties as to be afraid of a change, even if they have the chance of one.

An illustration of this is given by a woman in Brooklyn who never has learned to read or write. In no way could one discover this except by her own admission or by putting her to a direct test, for she is one of the best educated women in the country, conversant with languages, art, literature and all the current topics of the day. She is rich, too, and could afford all the services of the best teachers if she but chose to learn to read, but she refuses to do so.

When this woman was a child, her parents lived far from schools, so she had no chance then to learn to read or write. As a mere child she began to earn her own living, and again the chance for schooling slipped away. Then she married and the cares of a family took up her time. By the time the babies were off her hands, her husband had grown rich, and then she began her real education, and now, as a widow, she continues it. Her companions read to her and talk with her about all the topics which interest her. Years of such work have stored her mind with a rich treasure of knowledge, and there is not a page of a book that has been read to her that she is not familiar with. Her stores of knowledge are at her instant command. Why will she not learn to read? Because, she says, she fears that this wonderful memory, which is now such a treasure house to her, might be impaired if she were to do anything to weaken the demands upon it.

What such a memory can do is well illustrated in the case of a tailor of this city who cannot read or write. He is probably the most widely known man in his business here, as for many years he has done business with New York's firemen and policemen. Almost every man of these two bodies has dealings with this tailor, and each month between the first and the tenth days he visits every station house and engine and truck house in this city to collect his dues. He has acquired considerable wealth, and it is said of him that in all the years he has dealt with the firemen and policemen he never was known to make a mistake of a cent in any man's account, although all his records of transactions have been kept in his head. —New York Sun.

WHEN GRANT WAS POOR.

A Time In His Career When He Needed the Wherewithal.

General W. H. L. Barnes, one of the leaders of the San Francisco bar, at a meeting of the California commandery of the Military Order of the Loyal Legion, told the following story about General Grant. It was told years ago to General Barnes by Captain Richard L. Ogden, once a clerk in the office of the United States quartermaster at San Francisco, and General Barnes recently copied it from Captain Ogden's diary.

It was that when Grant resigned his commission as captain, at the age of 32, being then in Oregon, he went to San Francisco on his way home and presented to Captain Ogden a certificate of per diem service on a court martial amounting to about $40. The certificate was incorrectly drawn, and Grant with a look of despair asked Captain Ogden's permission to sleep on the lounge in the latter's office, saying he had not a cent to his name. He slept on the rickety office lounge, and Ogden agreed to cash the certificate personally and to send it back to Oregon for correction. Grant had expected to buy passage for himself to New York in the steerage, but Ogden went with him to the Pacific Mail steamship office and procured for him a cabin passage pass, or what was the nearest to it the steamship company could give, for Grant had to pay his railroad fare across the isthmus. This, however, left him $15, and Grant was very grateful.

The diary quotes him as saying to Captain Ogden: "This is a great luxury and what I did not expect, and I am indebted to you for it. The prospect of ever being able to reciprocate is certainly remote, but strange things happen in this world, and there is no knowing." —Pittsburg Dispatch.

LOST HIS MEMORY

Malone Can Think of Next to Nothing.

HE KNOWS HE WAS STRUCK

But Did Not See the Party Who Hit Him.

RECOGNIZED HIS OLD REVOLVER

When Placed In the Chair the Witness Answered Questions For Two Hours, But His Recollection of What Happened Between the Time He Was Hit and the Moment He Reached the Open Air In Charge of Officer Cohagen, Is a Shadowy, Misty Nothing—Evidence All In and the Arguments In Progress.

Lisbon, June 4.—[Special]—The first witness called for the defense in the Malone case was Edward Geisse who has already figured a great deal in the trial.

"Did you the night of the tragedy say to Officer Warren and your mother that you struck Pat first and that you did it for fun?" asked Judge Moore.

"I did not."

Doctor Hutchinson was next called, and said he examined Malone after he was taken to jail, and found injuries about the eye and nose, and two ribs seemed to be thrown out of place. "He was not bleeding. I think the wounds were caused by something other than the fist. I was there when Willie Geisse died, and heard the conversation with his brother, Frank. If I remember correctly he avoided conversation regarding the shooting, and told Frank he did not know who had shot him."

Herbert Sheeley said he saw Ed Geisse at Noble's saloon at 7 o'clock the night Willie was killed. Malone and Ed were drinking together.

Lester Laughlin met the party at Noble's saloon, and later he met Mary Dennis, and she gave him a drink. He testified that he heard the shot and saw shadows on the blind, but heard no noise except a cry of murder.

Mary Welsh came next, and testified that Will came home at 8 o'clock the night he was killed, but went up town again, returned in half an hour, and went in at the front door. "When he appeared at the door again he had a mace in his hand, remained a short time and returned to the house. Soon after a shot was fired, and he came out crying that he was shot."

Hardy Nelson corroborated the testimony of Mrs. Welsh.

Etta Reager saw Will Geisse go home, heard the scuffle and shot, and heard Mrs. Geisse scream murder.

Fritz Workman was at the Geisse house after the shooting when Willie lay on the ground. "I picked up a club resembling a mace," he said, "and handed it to my father and he took it home. Joe came to our house and got it while I was away."

The next was Henry Workman. He arrived at the house 20 minutes after the shooting.

"Did you see any revolvers?" asked Mr. Brookes.

"Not that night."

Joshua Holloway saw Ed Geisse after the shooting, and said "I saw something in his pocket that I took to be a revolver. He said in my presence that he had hit Malone."

"What else did he say?" asked Judge Moore.

"He told me he had been shot through the coat, and showed me the hole."

"Have you been employed as detective in the case?" asked Mr. Speaker.

"No sir, I have not."

Charles Reager said that he knew the family some time, and lives near them. He did not hear the shot. He saw Cohagen come out with Malone.

J. W. Riley, acting mayor of Wells-ville said: "I was called to take the dying deposition of William Geisse at Dennis' the morning after the shooting. He was lying on the bed, and said to me that he did not know whether he was going to die. I also acted as coroner at the inquest."

Chief Joe Warren, of the Wells-ville police, testified that he had known Ed Geisse for four years, and was at the house after the shooting. "I saw no blood on Ed's face, but saw marks."

"What would you say caused those marks?" said Brookes.

"They looked to me like powder marks. Mrs. Geisse, Edward Thorn and I were together in the room when she asked Ed what he hit Pat for. His answer was 'for fun.'"

Officer A. C. Morgan testified to Ed Geisse's character. "He is quarrelsome, and was frequently arrested. Geisse talked with me on Broadway the day after the shooting. He said he had struck Malone first."

Chief Warren was recalled, and was asked by Mr. Brookes if Mrs. Geisse had stated that while she was coming in the front room just prior to the shooting, somebody knocked down Malone.

"Yes," he replied.

"Did Ed Geisse speak up and say, 'that was me?'"

"Yes, Ed said he hit him for fun."

Edward Bunting, another of the witnesses for the state, was recalled, and said he heard Dennis say when he saw Malone on the bed, "Don't you know you shot that boy?" and Malone said, "No, did I?" "Malone was bleeding in the face."

"Where was Will Geisse when the shot was fired?" asked Mr. Brookes.

"I thought he was on the pavement opposite the doorway. I still think so. I was 50 yards away from him."

George Daniels said Malone was pretty full on April 23.

Patrick Malone, the accused murderer of Willie Geisse went on the stand at 4 o'clock yesterday, and for an hour kept up the fight in his own behalf under the examination of Mr. Brookes and Mr. Speaker. He said:

"I have for four years lived in Wells-ville. I am 45 years of age, and weigh 214 pounds. I came to Mrs. Geisse's soon after New Year's, and boarded there to the time of my arrest."

"Did you ever have trouble with the Geisse boys prior to April?"

"Yes, a few words occasionally, but not to amount to anything, generally about drink. Will never put me out of the house."

"Did you ever make any threats to blow up the Geisse house with dynamite?"

"I may have one night when the old lady was after me, and took my hat, when I shouted 'Bring back that hat.' I was arrested."

"Did you ever say there would be another Pearl Bryan case there some day, that you would cut Mrs. Geisse up and throw her into the river?"

"I never did."

"Did you ever threaten to fill Ed full of holes?"

"Only when he threatened me. The old lady told me to defend myself."

"Did Ed ever pull a gun on you?"

"No, that was Joe. He ran me and the old lady out of the house, and she told me to get my gun."

"I was not bringing any beer to the Geisse house at that time as I had taken the pledge. It was in April that Willie called me an Irishman. We had no serious trouble. We were generally on good terms—outside of Willie."

"On April 23 I worked all day. On my way home I stopped at McDonald's saloon to get a beer. John Nicholson and Dick Smith were with me. From there we went to Connor's saloon, and I went home. I am not sure whether I had supper. I brought a pitcher of beer to the house, and Mrs. Geisse, Mrs. Rager and I drank it. I left."

"What time did you next go home?"

"At 9 o'clock. I went in by the basement door. The old lady and I had a spat. She was mad because I didn't come home to supper. I went upstairs to get my overcoat. Mrs. Geisse did not go with me. When I reached the door that came from the back room some one struck me in the left eye, and I fell."

"What do you next recollect?"

"I can recall nothing more. I do not remember when or how I got up, or where I went, or who was with me."

"Do you remember John Dennis catching you and throwing you on the bed?"

"I do not remember of him being there, and will never know who struck me. I did not see Will or Ed Geisse there."

"Did you know what you were struck with?"

"No, but I think it was a club. My first recollection is when I was taken to the open air. I don't think I was struck after I was arrested."

"Why did you reach in your pocket for your revolver?"

"When I was struck I did it to defend myself. I guess I lost the revolver when I fell."

"Where did you get that revolver?"

"Mrs. Geisse gave it to me two years ago. I generally kept it at my boarding house, but had taken it to Geisse's and kept it in my trunk."

Malone here identified the revolver with the broken handle. It contained

The next was Henry Workman. He arrived at the house 20 minutes after the shooting.

"Did you see any revolvers?" asked Mr. Brookes.

"Not that night."

Joshua Holloway saw Ed Geisse after the shooting, and said "I saw something in his pocket that I took to be a revolver. He said in my presence that he had hit Malone."

"What else did he say?" asked Judge Moore.

"He told me he had been shot through the coat, and showed me the hole."

"Have you been employed as detective in the case?" asked Mr. Speaker.

"No sir, I have not."

Charles Reager said that he knew the family some time, and lives near them. He did not hear the shot. He saw Cohagen come out with Malone.

J. W. Riley, acting mayor of Wells-ville said: "I was called to take the dying deposition of William Geisse at Dennis' the morning after the shooting. He was lying on the bed, and said to me that he did not know whether he was going to die. I also acted as coroner at the inquest."

Chief Joe Warren, of the Wellsville police, testified that he had known Ed Geisse for four years, and was at the house after the shooting. "I saw no blood on Ed's face, but saw marks."

"What would you say caused those marks?" said Brookes.

"They looked to me like powder marks. Mrs. Geisse, Edward Thorn and I were together in the room when she asked Ed what he hit Pat for. His answer was 'for fun.'"

Officer A. C. Morgan testified to Ed Geisse's character. "He is quarrelsome, and was frequently arrested. Geisse talked with me on Broadway the day after the shooting. He said he had struck Malone first."

Chief Warren was recalled, and was asked by Mr. Brookes if Mrs. Geisse had stated that while she was coming in the front room just prior to the shooting, somebody knocked down Malone.

"Yes," he replied.

"Did Ed Geisse speak up and say, 'that was me?'"

"Yes, Ed said he hit him for fun."

Edward Bunting, another of the witnesses for the state, was recalled, and said he heard Dennis say when he saw Malone on the bed, "Don't, you know you shot that boy?" and Malone said, "No, did I?" "Malone was bleeding in the face."

"Where was Will Geisse when the shot was fired?" asked Mr. Brookes.

"I thought he was on the pavement opposite the doorway. I still think so. I was 50 yards away from him."

George Daniels said Malone was pretty full on April 23.

Patrick Malone, the accused murderer of Willie Geisse went on the stand at 4 o'clock yesterday, and for an hour kept up the fight in his own behalf under the examination of Mr. Brookes and Mr. Speaker. He said:

"I have for four years lived in Wells-ville. I am 45 years of age, and weigh 214 pounds. I came to Mrs. Geisse's soon after New Year's, and boarded there to the time of my arrest."

"Did you ever have trouble with the Geisse boys prior to April?"

"Yes, a few words occasionally, but not to amount to anything, generally about drink. Will never put me out of the house."

"Did you ever make any threats to blow up the Geisse house with dynamite?"

"I may have one night when the old lady was after me, and took my hat, when I shouted 'Bring back that hat.' I was arrested."

"Did you ever say there would be another Pearl Bryan case there some day, that you would cut Mrs. Geisse up and throw her into the river?"

"I never did."

"Did you ever threaten to fill Ed full of holes?"

"Only when he threatened me. The old lady told me to defend myself."

"Did Ed ever pull a gun on you?"

"No, that was Joe. He ran me and the old lady out of the house, and she told me to get my gun."

"I was not bringing any beer to the Geisse house at that time as I had taken the pledge. It was in April that Willie called me an Irishman. We had no serious trouble. We were generally on good terms—outside of Willie."

"On April 23 I worked all day. On my way home I stopped at McDonald's saloon to get a beer. John Nicholson and Dick Smith were with me. From there we went to Connor's saloon, and I went home. I am not sure whether I had supper. I brought a pitcher of beer to the house, and Mrs. Geisse, Mrs. Rager and I drank it. I left."

"What time did you next go home?"

"At 9 o'clock. I went in by the basement door. The old lady and I had a spat. She was mad because I didn't come home to supper. I went upstairs to get my overcoat. Mrs. Geisse did not go with me. When I reached the door that came from the back room some one struck me in the left eye, and I fell."

"What do you next recollect?"

"I can recall nothing more. I do not remember when or how I got up, or where I went, or who was with me."

"Do you remember John Dennis catching you and throwing you on the bed?"

"I do not remember of him being there, and will never know who struck me. I did not see Will or Ed Geisse there."

"Did you know what you were struck with?"

"No, but I think it was a club. My first recollection is when I was taken to the open air. I don't think I was struck after I was arrested."

"Why did you reach in your pocket for your revolver?"

"When I was struck I did it to defend myself. I guess I lost the revolver when I fell."

"Where did you get that revolver?"

"Mrs. Geisse gave it to me two years ago. I generally kept it at my boarding house, but had taken it to Geisse's and kept it in my trunk."

Malone here identified the revolver with the broken handle. It contained

Pioneer Pottery Kilnmen Return to Work.

A SATISFACTORY ADJUSTMENT

Working For the Switch—A Practical Joke. Drilling Again—Endeavorers Will Go to San Francisco—All the News of Wellsville.

Officials of the Pioneer pottery and kilnmen who left the kilns the other day have settled their differences, and the workmen are again in their places. The kilnmen claim the burning was not due to any fault of theirs, and the conference brought out the conclusion that both sides had been too hasty. The men were not discharged, but on the complaint of the company quit at once.

The News of Wellsville.

John Cochran, a leading farmer of Somerset, was here yesterday purchasing supplies for his saw mill.

Solicitor Lones returned from Lisbon, last night. He does not believe the Malone case will last long.

Joseph Gamble and wife rode home on a tandem from Pittsburg yesterday.

Mrs. Edward Blackburn, of Lisbon, was here yesterday attending the funeral of a relative.

Mr. and Mrs. Gray, of Walker, are the proud parents of a bouncing baby boy, the little stranger arriving yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Julia McCain has returned from a two months' visit with Cleveland relatives.

The Hotel Davies has been handsomely refitted.

Ellwood Bunting opens his new and handsome cafe next week with a Pittsburg orchestra.

A huge practical joke was perpetrated on two well known young workmen at the Pioneer pottery yesterday afternoon. Another employe had left some salt wrapped up near his dinner pail; the young men thought it a good joke to confiscate it. They were discovered eating it by the owner who excitedly informed them that it was rough on rats, mixed with arsenic. The two young men hurriedly repaired to McKenzie's drug store, where they secured an emetic and spent half an hour disgorging what they had eaten for a week, mildly protesting to themselves that they would not hereafter meddle with the victuals of others, if their lives were spared.

It is said that the present council, or a majority of the same, are well disposed toward the big switch scheme, given in the NEWS REVIEW some weeks ago, if the matter was again pushed forward by the citizens. The right of way can be obtained in but one instance, and the railway company are favorable also to the scheme, or at least were, when a competing line of railway was agitating this section of the country.

Superintendent McDonald is contemplating a trip to the Pacific coast with the Christian Endeavorers, as are also a number of other Wellsville people.

Drilling has begun again on the Johnson farm well, and the drill will be pushed until the well is known to be either a producer or a duster.

Alexander Wells celebrated his 89th anniversary yesterday. He has been in business here since 1829, having been born in a log house at Seventh and Cole streets. His many friends hope he will live to see other anniversaries.

R. Y. Bruce, master builder of the Panhandle, is here from Logansport, on business.

Nathan Vail has sued W. B. Barr for the possession of a calf. The case will be heard Monday by Squire Haney.

L. B. Barnhart, passenger brakeman, has moved to Bellaire.

Mrs. McDonald McGregor returned from a Pittsburg visit today.

Conductors L. Morrisey and B. Champney are off duty on the sick list.

Eight teachers were examined yesterday.

Hallny Mansfield entertained at his home, Main street, last night.

Will Bell, of Salineville, is visiting here.

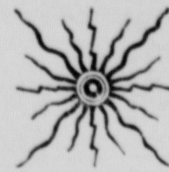

Mr. Evans, of Salineville, is visiting John Campman.

Joseph Coote, aged 80 years, died yesterday. Funeral tomorrow from the residence of A. M. Pelley.

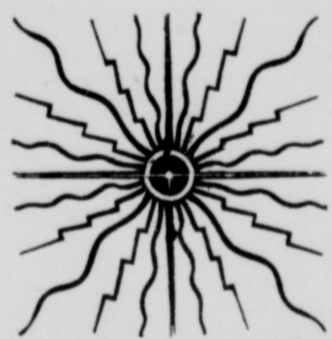

We are the only parties in the Ohio valley selling tea 10c per pound, good peaches, three pound cans, 10c, two pound package rolled oats 5c. These are but few of many bargains.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., FRIDAY, JUNE 4.

It really seems as though Weyler would soon lose his job.

It will not be long until the Lisbon Patriot is placing the responsibility for typhoid fever and measles on the tariff. It has already blamed the administration for crimes of bank officials.

GRATIFYING progress is being made by the senate, and the tariff bill is this evening much farther advanced than its friends dared hope a week ago. A little more patience and the work will be done.

THE men who did not support Bryan are not counted among the Democrats this year according to Johnny McLean. That's a mistake on the part of Johnny. He will need everyone of them next election day.

SENATOR VEST has done a great deal of talking since the senate began to consider the tariff, but he has lost his prestige. A great deal of what he gave in the way of figures does not agree with the books of the treasury department.

If Mr. Bryan is a good politician he will spend some of his time hunting a new argument for use in the Ohio campaign. His sole stock in trade at present is the alleged failure of Republicans to keep the promises of last fall. Before November those promises will have been kept, and the boy orator will be deprived of something to say.

ANOTHER Ohio law has died at the hands of the supreme court. It is the Torrens land law of which we heard so much a year or more ago. In framing it some one conferred judicial powers on county auditors, and of course that would never do. Some day the legislature of this state will learn that the supreme court has been reading up the constitution.

THE TARIFF FIRST.

Those who have followed the course of the administration can see plainly that President McKinley has subordinated everything to the tariff. Realizing that protection against foreign labor and foreign prices was the one great issue of the campaign, he has done the will of the people in carrying out the promises of his party. There will doubtless be a diversity of legislation after the Dingley bill is a law.

WANTED—A LIBERAL MAN.

Lisbon and Massillon are fortunate. Each has been presented with money sufficient to give it a public library. We are not so lucky. It is true we have a library, but the kindly action of a generous man is sadly needed to place it on a sound financial footing. There are many men in East Liverpool who could immortalize their names and benefit the community by a substantial contribution without missing it from their private fortunes. Who are they? Will some one step boldly forward? They are needed now. A few thousands judiciously expended at this time would allow the library to pass so far beyond the experimental stage that it would not be necessary to constantly seek contributions in the future.

MITCHELL LYNCHED.

The Urbana Mob Hanged Him This Morning.

COLUMBUS, June 4.—[Special]—A telephone message from Urbana at noon today states that Chick Mitchell was hanged by the mob this morning.

Particulars of the crime and attack on the jail will be found on the first page of today's NEWS REVIEW.

We fit your mind as well as your body.
 We alter the clothes if need be, the same as your tailor.

We are personally responsible that a good fitting suit of clothes is given you.

If you have a complaint to make, let us hear from you.

Our Ready to Wear Tailor Suits

All wool suits. The lowest prices that have ever been known. It's no use to buy last year's goods when this season's suits you; can buy for much less money. Made by the largest reputable wholesale manufacturers. We are selling them at $6 00, 7.00, $8.00 and $9.00

High Grade Suits

Suits that you can't tell from merchant tailored suits. Goods sponged, that will hold their shape--suits that will fit--suits that must fit. High grade suits for little money. $10, $11, $12, $13 and $14. Some people think they can't be suited in ready-to-wear suits--must have them made to order. We added this new department and have had good success. Every suit made to measure. Must be satisfactory to the customer. He is under no obligation to take same. What more can you ask?

The men who did not support Bryan are not counted among the Democrats this year according to Johnny McLean. That's a mistake on the part of Johnny. He will need everyone of them next election day.

SENATOR VEST has done a great deal of talking since the senate began to consider the tariff, but he has lost his prestige. A great deal of what he gave in the way of figures does not agree with the books of the treasury department.

If Mr. Bryan is a good politician he will spend some of his time hunting a new argument for use in the Ohio campaign. His sole stock in trade at present is the alleged failure of Republicans to keep the promises of last fall. Before November those promises will have been kept, and the boy orator will be deprived of something to say.

ANOTHER Ohio law has died at the hands of the supreme court. It is the Torrens land law of which we heard so much a year or more ago. In framing it some one conferred judicial powers on county auditors, and of course that would never do. Some day the legislature of this state will learn that the supreme court has been reading up the constitution.

THE TARIFF FIRST.

Those who have followed the course of the administration can see plainly that President McKinley has subordinated everything to the tariff. Realizing that protection against foreign labor and foreign prices was the one great issue of the campaign, he has done the will of the people in carrying out the promises of his party. There will doubtless be a diversity of legislation after the Dingley bill is a law.

WANTED—A LIBERAL MAN.

Lisbon and Massillon are fortunate. Each has been presented with money sufficient to give it a public library. We are not so lucky. It is true we have a library, but the kindly action of a generous man is sadly needed to place it on a sound financial footing. There are many men in East Liverpool who could immortalize their names and benefit the community by a substantial contribution without missing it from their private fortunes. Who are they? Will some one step boldly forward? They are needed now. A few thousands judiciously expended at this time would allow the library to pass so far beyond the experimental stage that it would not be necessary to constantly seek contributions in the future.

MITCHELL LYNCHED.

The Urbana Mob Hanged Him This Morning.

COLUMBUS, June 4.—[Special]—A telephone message from Urbana at noon today states that Chick Mitchell was hanged by the mob this morning.

four loads and one empty shell, and he said it was his.
"Did you ever see a mace at Geisse's?"
"Yes, I have seen a wooden one and one wrapped in leather."

The cross examination was vigorous. In reply to Mr. Speaker he said:

"I have a wife and children in New Jersey. I have lived at Geisse's several months. Mrs. Geisse and I occupied the same room."

"Didn't the children object to this?"

"No, but they did object to me bringing liquor there. They didn't care when I drank, but they didn't want the old lady to drink."

"You had some difficulty with the Geisses, didn't you?"

"Yes. That is, Will and I did. On the night he was killed I went to the house at 9 o'clock."

"Didn't you strike Mrs. Geisse?"

"No sir."

"You had some trouble?"

"No sir."

"Didn't you draw a revolver on her in the basement?"

"No, sir, never in my life. I told her I was going to leave, but I didn't mean it. I was only joking. When I was upstairs I intended to go to bed, but I changed my mind."

"You recall the fight with Ed?"

"I do not. I recall nothing till I was outside. After I was locked up I had a conversation with Officer Warren, but made no statement to him about the shooting."

"You were not afraid of Ed Geisse that night?"

"I was never afraid of him, but feelings of fear came over me on this night when I was struck. When I came to my face was bloody and sore, and the ribs on the right side caved in."

THE ARGUMENTS.

They Were Started Early This Morning.

At 8:30 this morning the defense continued its case by recalling Walter Burd for the purpose of further cross examination. He said:

"I was two feet from the corner of Geisse's house, and I looked into the house the night of the murder and saw Malone pointing a revolver at Ed Geisse. I heard the shot fired."

"Did you talk with the marshal of Wellsville in regard to what you knew about this tragedy?" asked Mr. Brookes.

"No I think not."

"Did you not on Third street have some conversation with Officer Warren on the day following the shooting when you said you knew nothing of it?"

"Not that I remember."

"Did you have a conversation last Saturday night with Mrs. Geisse asking her how it occurred?"

"I do not remember of it."

"Did she say anything to you Saturday night," quickly asked Mr. Speaker.

"Yes, she asked me if I knew about the murder, and I told her I did not and was glad of it."

"Why did you tell her this?"

"Because I did not want to come to Lisbon as a witness."

"Was what you said in testimony yesterday the truth?"

"Yes, sir. I did see Malone standing in the room with the revolver in his hand pointed at Ed Geisse."

Chief Warren testified that when he was hunting testimony Burd told him he knew nothing of it.

The efforts of the defense to secure the testimony of Constable Thorn, of Wellsville, have so far been unsuccessful. He was called to appear before the Federal grand jury, at Columbus, at the time this case was to have been heard, and owing to the fact that this case was called one day before the time set he could not be here. After a conference between the attorneys, it was agreed that the evidence given yesterday by Chief Warren, concerning the visit to the Geisse house the evening after the murder, when Ed Geisse admitted to striking Malone, be admitted. With this the defense rested, and the state called Mrs. Geisse.

She denied the testimony given by Burd, and the case was completed, all witnesses being excused. The arguments were limited to two hours a side. Prosecutor Speaker opening.

He first cited to the court the points of law involved as stipulated by Judge Smith.

"The slayer," he said, "should be without fault in the difficulty, and simply from the use of a deadly weapon by him the jury may infer malice and intent to kill. No matter to what extent he is attacked he is not justified in taking the life of his opponent until he has succeeded in withdrawing entirely from the conflict and retiring to a place of security. Then only can he be justified in defending himself. If Malone committed an assault and battery on William Geisse which resulted in death the verdict of the jury must be manslaughter, and not assault and battery. Under no circumstances is intoxication an excuse for crime. If it be to such an extent as to obliterate mentality and intelligence when the party could not have understood the nature of his act, then only can the jury take this into consideration, in determining malicious intent. It is immaterial as to whether the party killed is the one intended to be slain. If he had the malice and intent to kill it constitutes murder in the second degree."

Judge Moore cited the law in the case for the defense in part as follows:

"So far as Malone's action in self defense is concerned Will Geisse stands in the shoes of his brother Ed, and the jury may look at the case from this standpoint. If found that Malone did resist and use more force than necessary under the existing condition of his state of intoxication, he may be found guilty of assault and battery only."

Prosecutor Speaker began to talk at 11 o'clock, and continued into the afternoon session. It was impassioned throughout. In part he said:

"Gentlemen—William Geisse, a youth in his teens, today sleeps in a bloody shroud, slain by Patrick Malone, who had for months despoiled his home. In stating this case I am standing on the causeway of justice. I am not asking sympathy or tears. These boys were defending their mother, and had the highest right in the world to object to Malone being in the house and to the relation existing between him and their mother. He had soaked their mother with beer, feeding the flame of her appetite for the beverage. The malice of Malone toward these boys arose from those objections, and on the night of the murder he had armed himself for the fray. In that home Pat Malone was walking the path to hell, and was leading the mother of those children with him. It is commendable that they restrained themselves from slaying him in his tracks. The defense tells you that Ed Geisse has occupied a felon's cell, and has violated the laws of Wellsville. Ed Geisse is not an ornament to a drawing room. We all know that, but I do say he is truthful. He is not contradicted by any witness except Malone. He is supported by witness after witness. He tells you he struck Malone, that he knocked him down and kicked him. You would have done the same. If your brother had been killed by the beast what would your heart prompt you to do?"

Mr. Speaker finished his argument a few minutes before 3 o'clock, and Judge Moore began. The case will go to the jury about 6 o'clock, and a verdict is expected tonight.

MARRIED IN THE CHURCH

Although It Was 10 O'clock at Night.

FORGOT ABOUT THE LICENSE

They Came From Pittsburg, and Judge Boone Was Notified—Nothing but a Church Wedding Would Satisfy Them, and They Got It.

Rev. Charles O'Meara last night at 10:30 officiated in a marriage ceremony at St. Stephen's church.

Last evening a young couple from Pittsburg arrived in Wellsville, and going to the Episcopal minister, asked to be married, being under the impression no license was required in this county. When they found they needed a certificate they took a car and came to this city. Reverend O'Meara was found. At 10 o'clock they arrived at the office of Squire Hill and explained their wants. The squire telephoned to Judge Boone and the license was granted and started on its way to this city.

The reverend then wanted to marry them in the parsonage, but they asked for a church wedding and the church was illuminated, and in the presence of a few spectators the couple were made one.

ANOTHER DIRECTOR HEARD FROM.

Doctor Norris Replies to the Views of Mr. McClain.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW:—In a recent edition of your paper, Mr. McClain gave his views in regard to the petitions that are being signed by the parents of our school children and fellow citizens. Permit me to say that I believe in petitions, as they express the wishes of the citizens we represent. We, as free Americans, petition our legislators to enact temperance and just laws for our general welfare. The re-election of a superintendent is a matter wherein the parents and citizens are enabled of expressing an intelligent opinion; and they have a right to ask and expect the board of Education to regard their wishes. We should feel that the persons who have signed these petitions have done us a great kindness, for we thus have a great consensus of public opinion, and do not have to depend upon our own judgment in these instances. I believe the board to be competent and able to manage the schools as regards general business; but when there is a controversy of this kind, we need public opinion. As we meet tonight we should lay aside all prejudice and vote as the majority of parents desire. If I can not consistently follow out the desires of my constituents I will resign.

THREE WEDDINGS.

The Contracting Parties Are Well Known and Popular.

William Williams and Miss Nancy Greenwood were married last evening by Rev. Charles O'Meara in the presence of a few friends and relatives. The young people are very popular, and have many friends who will wish them a life of joy and happiness. They were treated later in the evening to a serenade by the band of which Mr. Williams is a member.

Michael Carraher, of Tiltonville, and Miss Anna Densmore were united in marriage Wednesday evening by Father Synthe. The groom is a former resident of the city, and is well and favorably known here, while the bride is a most estimable young lady. They will make their home in Tiltonville.

Invitations are out announcing the approaching marriage of Henry Schreiber, of Evansville, Ind., and Miss Ida Carolina Agner, Wednesday, June 16, at the Evangelical Lutheran church.

AGENTS WANTED.

Each Individual Can Make a Fortune in Six Months.

Agents are wanted in Bombay, London, Timbuctoo, Paris, Hamburg, Fejie Islands, Hindoostan, Wales, Ireland, Scotland, Cuba, Spain, Greece, and other neighboring places, too tedious to mention, for the "DAILY PUFFER AND ROASTER." A mint of money can be made by each agent. There are millions in the venture. All that is necessary to obtain said millions is unlimited gall on their part, and complete gullibility on the part of business men and the purchasing public.

A STRONG TEAM

A Change of Decision.

I was very much surprised and greatly pleased to find the unity and good feeling that exists among the unions of this city. When I decided to keep my store open in the evenings I had no idea that anyone outside of my line of business would be in the least interested. But I find that the clerks' union have put forth quite an effort to persuade the merchants of the city to "close early." In my line I hardly approve of it; but when we take into consideration the army of young ladies employed in the dry goods stores, to say nothing of the great number of gentlemen employed as clerks, and the long hours they would be compelled to work, we can readily see that it is quite a boon for them to get off four nights in a week at 6 o'clock. The clerks' union seems to think that my keeping open might be the opening wedge to break up the work they have accomplished. We were waited upon last evening by a very imposing and persuasive committee from the Trades council, and by their lady-like and gentlemanly eloquence, easily led us to see the error of our ways, so we have decided to reconsider our former decision and close up promptly at 6 o'clock every evening, except Saturday and Monday evenings, after this evening, on account of engagements made.

Respectfully,
* WADE, the jeweler.

To the Public.

My patrons, and the public in general, will make note that I have removed my dressmaking establishment from the Pounts & Stevenson building to the new Syndicate block, Sixth street. Many years of experience in first-class establishments enable me to guarantee perfect fitting garments, while workmanship is unexcelled, as hundreds of delighted East Liverpool patrons will testify.

FARM BUILDINGS DEDICATED.

Governor and Many Notables at the Ohio Experiment Station.

WOOSTER, O., June 4.—The dedication of the administration building at the Ohio agricultural experiment station here attracted 15,000 visitors. Governor Asa S. Bushnell and Colonel J. H. Bigham, assistant secretary of agriculture, were the guests of honor, and were met on their arrival by military companies from Canton, Akron, Alliance, Shreve and Mansfield. In the governor's party were many members of the legislature and the Ohio board of agriculture.

A procession was formed, consisting of the military, many bands of music and hundreds of farmers in all manner of vehicles, and proceeded to the station, where the dedication exercises took place.

The addresses were delivered by Governor Asa S. Bushnell, Colonel J. H. Bigham, assistant secretary of agriculture; Dr. W. I. Chamberlain, president of the Iowa Agricultural college; H. R. Lagenby of Ohio State university and Dr. A. C. True of Washington. The building dedicated is a substantial structure, built of yellow sandstone, containing offices, library, laboratory and museum.

In the evening a very largely attended banquet took place in the city park pavilion.

The Loyal Legion Congress.

DETROIT, June 4.—The quadrennial congress of the Loyal Legion has concluded its work. There was a raft of amendments to the constitution offered, but the net result was the adoption of one amendment, which admits to membership officers and sons of officers who had served in the war but whose names were not upon the official muster roll.

Two Army Appointments.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—Acting Secretary of War Meiklejohn has announced that appointments had been made to the command of two of the great army departments of the country. Brigadier General Wade has been assigned to the department of Dakota at St. Paul, and Brigadier General Graham to the department of Texas, San Antonio.

Commissioner Calhoun Sails.

HAVANA, June 4.—The Lee-Congosto commission was entertained at supper by Senor Congosto and Consul General Lee. Mr. Calhoun left for the United States by the steamer Saratoga. He went on board accompanied by the correspondent of The Associated Press and the correspondents of the New York Herald and Journal and Advertiser.

Now Under Investigation.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—Inquiry at the state department as to the firing on the Ward line steamship Valencia by the Spanish cruiser Maria Mercedes at the entrance of the harbor of Guatanamo, Cuba, is met by the statement that the matter is now under investigation.

MINISTRY RESIGNATIONS.

The Spanish May Elect a New Cortes or Reassemble the Old One.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—The status of affairs at Madrid is thus explained by an official familiar with the facts: The Conservative ministry remained in power long enough to pass all the supply bills. This accomplished, it was felt that a continuance in office with the Liberal party declining to take part in the meetings of the cortes might seem dictatorial, and the resignations followed.

As the supply bills are passed the new cabinet will be confronted with no emergencies in that line, and it will not be necessary to reassemble the cortes, except to carry on general legislation, or as a means of establishing relations between the cortes and the new ministry. Two courses are open—one to reassemble the old cortes, the other to hold an election—in which event the new cortes would assemble next October.

A Cuban Before Senate Committee.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—Captain W. D. Smith of the Cuban army and said to have formerly been on the staff of General Gomez, was before a sub-committee of the senate committee on foreign relations. He supplied the committee with many details as to the strength of the insurgent forces and of their resources and also furnished them with much information concerning the treatment of pacificos and other resident in Cuba by Spaniards. His testimony was strictly guarded by the committee as private.

A State Treasurer Resigns.

TALLAHASSEE, June 4.—State Treasurer Collins has resigned and J. B. Whitfield, ex-clerk of the supreme court, has been appointed. Collins has for some time contemplated resignation, but was talked out of it. His resignation saves the state $20,000 expenses of trial, while the shortage will probably be made good by his bondsmen.

Forced to Shut Down.

PITTSBURG, June 4.—The large iron and steel plant of Jones & Laughlins has been forced to close down entirely in all departments because of the strikers. The shutdown affects about 3,500 men, including the strikers, who number within 1,000 of the total number employed.

A Colored Murderer Hanged.

MORRISTOWN, N. J., June 4.—David Wilson, the colored murderer, has been hanged here. David Wilson murdered his wife in a tenement house known as the "Folly," this city, on June 6, 1896, by chopping her to death with an axe.

Dress Goods.

Too many dress goods of certain kinds, and we propose to sell them at once. In doing this we shall rely on the prices in helping us to do it. A line of 36 inch goods, including checks in black and white, blue and white, brown and white, and green and white checks; also novelties that have sold all season at 40c. Our price for Saturday is 29c. These are cheap and nice for separate skirts or suits.

Another line of checks, 48 inches wide, in all colors, all wool, and cheap at 60c. Our price for Saturday is 45c. Our dollar checks at 75c. If interested in anything of this kind this will save you money.

In Our Cloak Room.

Shirt waists in all sizes, styles and prices. An excellent selection at reasonable prices. MERRY MYSTIC MIDGETS

They Owned the Crowd at the Grand Opera House.

PRETTY, MISCHIEVOUS, AMUSING

They Were Loudly Applauded, and Enthusiastically Received—Dances and Drills Excited Admiration—Will Be Repeated Tonight.

Merry, mischievous and amusing were the "Mystic Midgets" at the Grand Opera House last night, the cantata being given with a cast of over 100 little folks for the benefit of the First Presbyterian church. In spite of the short time and the enormous amount of work required to stage a production so elaborate, the entertainment was beyond question the most enjoyable juvenile performance ever witnessed in the city.

The rising of the curtain disclosed the stage filled with daintily dressed little ones, singing their song of greeting in honor of the anniversary of flowers. The queen, Miss Emma Bloor, was attended by her butterfly guards when she entered, and immediately organized her court, but was interrupted by a mysterious visitor in the person of Uglio, the ogre, a part well taken by Basil Hurford, of Canton. Consternation followed a loud clap of thunder, but sunshine came again when Psyche, Miss Gwendolin Laughlin, appeared with a carrier dove bearing a message from the "Mystic Midgets," who were soon to land on the island. The joy at this announcement is saddened by a thunder shower, and the fairies scampere to their homes while Uglio and his gnomes, Ralph and Howard Pittenger, Grover Tasker, Earl Arbuthnot, Roy Alger and Earl Adams sang their song. The sun drove them to the bushes, and the "Mystic Midgets" arrived. They were led by their chief, Prince Obdillous, pretty Miss Eunice Hurford, of Canton, and presented a splendid appearance. Laughlin Cook as Commodore; Allen Kitchell, Uncle Sam; Charles Vincent, Terrence McGinty; Charles Bloor, Karl Von Krouse; Charles Gipner, Carlos Zorilla; Dale Thompson, Count Pierre Coutard; Willie Bloor, Tiko; Willie Scraggs, Not-Worth-a-Cent; Charley Ogden, John Bull; Herbert Scott, Rob Foy; Carl Blackmore, Gaetano Banonino; Earl Clark, Major Do-Little; Geo. Faulk, Ivan Spanoff; Charles Gaston, Hop Sing; Geo. Keys, Sambo and Fred Brooks, Quimbo, presented each his country well. Claude Matheny did good service with his club, and everywhere as the little policeman did he struggle to keep the unruly representatives of the nations in order.

Then came the fairies, and there was a joyous meeting, the magic wand in the golden chest being presented by the Midgets. The prince forgot to deliver the key, and after the happy crowd departed Uglio and his band stole the chest. The scene ended with a carnival of nations each little fairy waving a flag, and presenting a very pretty picture.

The second part was equally entertaining, Uglio and his gnomes singing of how they would boil some one in the pot when the Midgets arrived and drove them away. The march and drill of the amazon and archer guards were very pretty, and Miss Laughlin sang very well. The queen was abducted by Uglio, but being locked in the secret panel with the chest recovered the wand. Uglio and his gnomes were turned into donkeys, dogs, bears, etc., and made to dance for the fairies and midgets, while the prince married the queen and all was well.

The entertainment throughout was highly amusing, the specialties being such as to warrant enthusiastic applause. Miss Maude McKinney and Miss Annie Dunn as the goodey-goodey girls received a merited encore, and Paul Nellis, king of the insects, was a success. Claude Matheny was the favorite, and the appearance of his little helmet and club was ever the signal for applause.

Much credit is due F. W. Fowler, Homer Laughlin, Jr., Miss Edna Simms, Miss Lucile Jones, the Misses Cartwright, Mrs. F. H. Croxall, Miss Williams, Mrs. J. N. Meanor, Miss Millicent Hill, G. L. Matheny and J. C. Kelly for their work in teaching the children. Mr. Decker was grievously disappointed because the scenery did not arrive yesterday, but it will be here tonight and the cantata will be better than ever. The Italian orchestra will provide the music.
